Celebrating the authentic practice that makes a real difference

PURPOSE AWARDS

2020 ENTRY KIT

Presented by PR WEEK
Recent years have seen purpose and cause marketing move from being a niche activity to a fundamental underpinning of corporate strategy among major corporations and brands, reaching near ubiquity in some industries. Old-style CSR has largely been replaced by a desire to add a bigger purpose at the heart of organizations in a truly authentic manner. At the same time, this has led to an increase in “purpose-washing” and inauthentic activations aimed at box-ticking and achieving short-term gain.

The second annual Purpose Awards by PRWeek will recognize activations that use creative ideas to further positive causes and also to acknowledge the organizations and individuals behind them.

The Awards are open to agencies, brands, public sector bodies, nonprofits, and NGOs. As consumers and potential staffers increasingly insist on brands they engage with and organizations they work for communicating what they believe in and standing up publicly for those values, winning a Purpose Award is the perfect way to demonstrate your organization’s authenticity in this crucial area.

The awards will take place during a cocktail party from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. on October 14, 2020 in Chicago at Convene, 16 West Adams Street, Chicago, IL 60603.
ACTIVATION AWARDS

NEW BEST B2B
For activity that emphasizes work for a professional audience — whether it be a niche business partner, the industry-at-large, or your own internal employees. Employees and partners are some of the most vocal advocates of purposeful work so judges will look for efforts within supply chains, local or regional communities, as well as internally through organizational purpose.

BEST ENVIRONMENTAL
For activity led by brands that raises awareness of an environmental cause or issue and promotes it in an effective way. Judges will be looking for original creative ideas. Ideally the campaign will raise awareness or positive sentiment toward the cause/issue, and/or help change behavior. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST HEALTH
For activity led by brands that raises awareness of a health-related cause or issue and promotes it in an effective way. Judges will be looking for original creative ideas. Ideally the campaign will raise awareness or positive sentiment toward the cause/issue, and/or help change behavior. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST EQUITY & INCLUSION
For activity led by brands that raises awareness of a cause or issue related to equity and inclusion and promotes it in an effective way. Judges will be looking for original creative ideas. Ideally the campaign will raise awareness or positive sentiment toward the cause/issue, and/or help change behavior. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST PUBLIC AWARENESS
For activity led by brands that raises awareness of a cause or issue that is relevant to the public — but does not fall in the categories of “equity and inclusion,” “health” or “environmental” — and promotes it in an effective way. Judges will be looking for original creative ideas. Ideally the campaign will raise awareness or positive sentiment toward the cause/issue, and/or help change behavior. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST FUNDRAISING
For activity led by brands focused on raising money for a particular fundraising cause. Ideally the winning campaign will raise awareness or positive sentiment towards both the cause/issue and the organization behind it. Judges will be looking for original creative ideas and will look favorably on campaigns that are shown to have not only helped raise money for the cause but have also changed behavior with calls to action. There will be no particular bias based on the scale of the cause — it is equally applicable to small, regional/local fundraising campaigns as to national or international ones. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST ADVOCACY
For activity led by brands focused on advocacy for a particular cause. Judges will be looking for original creative ideas. Ideally the winning campaign will raise awareness or positive sentiment toward both the cause/issue and the organization behind it. There will be a particular focus on campaigns aimed at changing a decision or policy, or that use the law to secure change. There will be no particular bias based on the scale of the cause — it is equally applicable to small, regional/local campaigns as to national or international ones. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST PROOF OF AUTHENTICITY

For activity that demonstrates a bigger purpose at the heart of a brand or organization in a truly authentic manner. The winning initiative will include multiple elements to advance an issue, research-based insights to identify areas for investment and focus, using real people touched by the activation to tell the story. The execution will include long-term internal and external commitments and provide data to demonstrate real impact and products or services.

BEST USE OF CREATIVITY

For activity that demonstrates outstanding creative thinking and brilliant execution in order to reach determined goals. These goals could relate to health or environmental causes, public awareness, equity/inclusion, or other moral causes. The winning campaign will have at its heart a powerful and original idea, and the execution may combine excellent use of PR, advertising, marketing, or other genres. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST USE OF TECHNOLOGY

For activity that demonstrates outstanding use of technology in order to reach determined goals. These goals could relate to health or environmental causes, public awareness, equity/inclusion, or other moral causes. Technology has the potential to be a distinctly positive or negative force. The winning campaign will have at its heart a powerful and original idea, and the execution may combine excellent use of PR, advertising, marketing, or other genres. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST USE OF MEASUREMENT

For activity that clearly benchmarks and achieves success in the pursuit of determined goals, both internally and externally. These goals could relate to health or environmental causes, public awareness, equity/inclusion, or other moral causes. The winning campaign will have at its heart a powerful and original idea, and the execution may combine excellent use of PR, advertising, marketing, or other genres. The winning campaign must provide credible data to support its claim (e.g., contextualizing measurement not only as an indicator of outcome, but also as a tool used to adjust the campaign throughout execution).

BEST USE OF DIGITAL/SOCIAL MEDIA

For activity that demonstrates outstanding use of social media and/or other digital resources in order to reach determined goals. These goals could relate to health or environmental causes, public awareness, equity/inclusion, or other moral causes. The winning campaign will have at its heart a powerful and original idea, and the execution may combine excellent use of PR, advertising, marketing, or other genres. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST USE OF CELEBRITY AND/OR INFLUENCERS

For activity that demonstrates outstanding use of a celebrity/celebrities and/or social media influencers in order to reach determined goals. These goals could relate to health or environmental causes, public awareness, equity/inclusion, or other moral causes. The winning campaign will have at its heart a powerful and original idea, and the execution may combine excellent use of PR, advertising, marketing, or other genres. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate. For the purposes of this category, influencers are defined as individuals or groups who have built their own following organically via social and digital channels, with no pre-existing fame.

This category is free of charge.

COMPANY AWARDS

AGENCY OF THE YEAR
For an agency of any discipline that has demonstrated its ability to produce effective campaigns for good causes across multiple clients. Judges will look for agencies that have used a variety of techniques and channels in their campaign work to great effect, and those that have creativity at their heart. The winning entrant will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BRAND OF THE YEAR
For a brand, corporation or multiple-brand-owning company that has demonstrated commitment to a good cause or good causes through more than just a single campaign in the year. The winning brand will be able to show that a positive purpose and cause is crucial to everything it does. The winning entrant will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST STUDENT CAMPAIGN
For an activation carried out by students that demonstrates outstanding creative thinking and brilliant execution in order to reach determined goals. These goals could relate to health or environmental causes, public awareness, equity/inclusion, or other moral causes. The winning campaign will have at its heart a powerful and original idea, and the execution may combine excellent use of PR, advertising, marketing, or other genres. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST INTEGRATION INTO CULTURE
For activity that becomes authentically embedded in the culture of a brand or organization. Judges will be looking for original creative ideas that advance a purpose agenda. There will be a particular focus on initiatives that infuse purpose in the enterprise's business or organization model. The winning execution will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

BEST COLLABORATION
For activity that involves multiple organizations (e.g., brands, nonprofits, public sector or federal bodies) raising awareness of a cause or issue and promoting it in an effective way. Judges will be looking for original creative ideas. Ideally the campaign will raise awareness or positive sentiment toward the cause/issue, and/or help change behavior. The winning campaign will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.
PERSONALITY AWARDS

MOST PURPOSEFUL PERSON UNDER THE AGE OF 30
For the young person who has demonstrated commitment to a good cause or good causes through more than just a single campaign in the year. The winning executive will have shown a positive purpose and shown that cause is crucial to everything they do. The winning entry will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

MOST PURPOSEFUL AGENCY PRO
For the agency professional who has demonstrated commitment to a good cause or good causes through more than just a single activation in the year. The winning executive will have shown a positive purpose and shown that cause is crucial to everything they do for their clients. The winning entry will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

MOST PURPOSEFUL IN-HOUSE COMMUNICATOR
For the communicator at a brand, corporation, or multiple-brand-owning company who has demonstrated commitment to a good cause or good causes through more than just a single campaign in the year. The winning executive will have shown a positive purpose and shown that cause is crucial to everything they do. The winning entry will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate.

MOST PURPOSEFUL CEO
For the chief executive officer at a corporation or multiple-brand-owning company who has demonstrated purpose and commitment to a good cause or good causes through more than just a single campaign in the year. The CEO will have shown leadership and ability to convey effective messaging to internal and external audiences. Positive purpose and social responsibility will be crucial in everything they do and will have been imbued throughout their organization. The winning entry will be expected to provide data to support its claims, where appropriate. (Those leading creative, PR, and communications agencies should enter the Most Purposeful Agency Pro category)
After entries are submitted, a panel of judges will begin a thorough judging process. Jurors include members of the PRWeek Purpose Council, senior PR professionals from agency, corporate, nonprofit, and government teams. Judges will be chosen for their professional and wide-ranging level of expertise in the area of purpose, communications, and corporate reputation.

Any juror who has a potential conflict of interest, including, but not restricted to, working for an agency that submitted that campaign and/or being involved with any aspect of the project, will not be allowed to judge that entry.

All jurors will be required to sign a confidentiality agreement that bans them from disclosing information from entry submissions.

 Judges do not discuss their individual scores with anyone — not even with each other. As such, the winners are not known until Awards night itself. Only the highest-scoring entries will be awarded a winner.

Note: This may mean that certain categories will not have a winner.
ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

PRWeek's Purpose Awards are open to agencies, brands, public sector organizations, nonprofits, and NGOs throughout the Americas and Asia. International entrants with campaigns that also ran within the Americas and Asia are also eligible.

Any work exclusive to EMEA should enter into the Purpose Awards UK - www.purposeawards.co.uk/

The eligibility period for submissions spans July 24, 2019 and June 15, 2020 and your campaign submission should only discuss activity that took place between those dates. Some of the work must have occurred during this time, but it does not necessarily need to have been started or completed during the eligibility period.

Each entry must be submitted online. The entry form will vary for each category; please refer to the entry form section in this entry kit for further details. Once all entry information is prepared, you can submit your entries online. All entries must be submitted and paid for online. You may input your entry information and save as a draft to return at a later date to submit payment. Credit cards accepted include Visa, MasterCard, and American Express. Entries that are not paid prior to judging will not be considered.

You will be offered the opportunity, when entering online, to submit information separately that should be kept confidential (i.e., submitted only to the jury). PRWeek reserves the right to publish details of entries in the program, case studies, and related materials.

To accompany your submission, entries should be supported with relevant backup materials. These support materials should show evidence of the success of your work. Please refer to the support material section of this entry kit for further details.
